PRESS RELEASE FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

12 Year Old Singer Songwriter Receives IMDb Credit

PRESS CONTACT: bookautumnhelenemusic@gmail.com

February 18, 2020 - Autumn Helene, 12 year old singer songwriter, musician, residing from Auburn, WA will be receiving IMDb credit for her song use in the new television series called "Hunting Jessica."

Helene released her original song "You Won't Regret A Thing" last summer in response to being bullied, and it has been selected for use in the new American dark fantasy thriller television series. The series revolves around Jessica, a vampire slayer living in the fictional town of Devil's Bend (Newkirk, Oklahoma), with filming expected to wrap up in April 2020.

Lisa Lee Martin is the director/producer of the Hunting Jessica Series and the owner of Raman-Martin Film Productions, which has offices in Florida and Oklahoma. Martin wrote the screenplay based on a fantasy novel of the same name by Elizabeth St. John. Martin's prior film work includes: The Surrogate and Trained to Kill (2018), as well as music for tv series "Game of Thrones." Martin is an American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers (ASCAP) eight- time award winning songwriter, following a successful writing career for Rocket Records of London and Jewel Lane Records in Memphis, TN.

- More –

@autumnhelenemusic
www.AutumnHelene.com
management: bookautumnhelenemusic@gmail.com
208 F St SE | Auburn, WA | 98002 | USA